
TO YOUTH WITH ALL ITS JOYS HERE'S TO HAPPINESS AND HEALTH HERE'S TO NATURE'S REMEDY.

When a man has truth to tell he finds no end of hearers. When his story is gladsome one, and he is able to bring news of health and strength to those who are weak and broken down, he finds millions ready to listen. Such is my story; it is full of truth and overflowing with tidings of new strength and life for the sick and liness can be removed, the full strength of nerves and as can be restored and the old vim and snap be felt once more.

Weak Men Can Be Cured.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

unlike anything that has ever been sold before. Not "as good," but r stronger, more durable, more pleasant to use, than any other ne body appliance on earth. It restores health by pumping a genstream of electricity into the weak parts while you sleep. It gives gurrent which you feel all the time, but it never burns or blisters as the old-style belts. It has a perfect regulator and my special cush-

My Belt cures all pain and weakness in from 30 to 60 days. Call and it or write today for my beautifully illustrated 80-page book, full happy tilings for sick people. Sent free.

Dr. M. G. McLaughlin, 702 Market Street, San Francisco, California California *

BEAL'S

FINE WALL PAPERS ARTISTIC BURLAP FABRICS. LINCRUSTA WALTON For Wall Decorations

PICTURE MOULDINGS

New Goods! Right Prices! Prompt Attention to All Orders

ALAKEA STREET

Between Merchant and Queen

P. O. Box 838 Tel. Main 358

SHREVE & CO., San Francisco

TO FACILITATE TRADE with the Hawaiian Islands, will deliver all goods purchased or ordered of them, FREE OF ALL CHARGES FOR RANSPORTATION to Honolulu, or returning same to San Francisco. Goods will be sent on selection to those known to the firm, or who will furnish stisfactory references in San Francisco.

MARKET AND POST STREETS, SAN FRANCISCO. illustrated catalogue and prices furnished upon receipt of request. We have the largest manufactory of Jewelry and Silverware west of New for city, and are prepared to furni sh special designs.

Corner Shoe Store! Loch Katrine lay beneath us fold. This gem of the Highlands, so famous in the "Lady of the Lake," presents unin the "Lake," presents unin the "L NETTLETON'S SHOES

Superior to Johnson & Murphy's, Banister, Hanan, and all other Footwear.

AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICE. L. B. KERR & CO., Ltd.

Fort and Hotel Streets

Fresh Cereals

OKS FLAKE RICE [something good; needs no cooking.] MORNING MEAL, ROLLED OATS, . PETTIJOHN'S BREAKFAST GEM, CREAM OF WHEAT, MALTED BREAKFAST FOOD, ETC., ETC.

SALTER & WAITY. Orpheum Block Grocers. Fort Street.

PROFESSOR HOSMER IN THE LAND OF THE CANNY SCOTS

stay in Glasgow we took the train for Ayr, about forty miles to the southwest, and soon after passing Paisley, the seat of the great Coats thread factories, found ourselves riding along the shore of the Firth of Clyde. The manufacturing towns and country villages through which we passed all seemed prosperous and the stone farm houses and cottages were scrupulously neat. The cultivated plots were separated by hawthorne hedges or substantial stone walls. Laboring men and women were working in the fields and groups of golf players were observed along the whole distance traversed by the railway. Arrived at Ayr, we were soon comfortably seated in a hansom, the driver being a well-informed man and an excellent guide. Like most of her sister towns, Ayr boasts a fine statue of Burns. This vicinity may be called the center of the Land of Burns. The road to the south over the 'new brig," takes one after a beautiful drive of about two miles to the humble stone cottage, which was the birthplace of Scotland's great bard, it was indeed humbie-a low-thatched cot built like its neighbors close to the street and containing barn, "byre, parlor and living-room. The last serv ed as kitchen, dining-room and bedroom. The bed upon which Burns was bern, tightly fitted in a small recess, was surrounded on three sides by the stone walls. There were no worden floors, only stone flags. In most of the ottages we have seen, the windows are exceedingly small and the panes are set horizontally instead of upright. The sunlight being excluded, dampness prevails and yet the people seem healthy. Numerous pieces of furniture belonging to the Burns family have been collected but these only serve to emphasize their poverty. An old secretary which the poet is said to have used is pointed out, this with the tall clock being the only pieces of any value aside from the historic interest. Some of his manuscript is to be seen kept under glass. Nearly a mile below the cottage is Kirk-Alloway, the scene of the witches' dance in Burns' fa-WINDOW SHADES miliar poem and in front of the church the father of the poet lies interred. Near by is the auld brig across the Doon, over which Tam o' Shanter rode so furiously to escape the pursuing witches and warlocks. In the gardens adjoining the bridge is a memorial there are enough in that country, and structure of stone somewhat crudely many began to sing psalms miserably designed, and here are life-size statues The whole surrounding country-side is full of memories of Burns and the people are thoroughly familiar with his life and writings. On our return in the afternoon we passed the camping grounds of the mounted yeomanry and witnessed a military parade. These troops correspond to our State militia > every summer. Early on a Monday morning we went by rail to Balloch at the foot of Loch Lemond and in an excellently appointed little steamer made the voyage up Scotland. The scenery was beautiful rather than grand and the once wild new a succession of parks with palatia' country seats seen among the rees. Our little steamer wound its way through the numerous islands by the base of Ben Lomond to Inversnaid Thence our course lay by coach through Rob Roy's country, where sheep were grazing amid the heather, past the birth place of Helen Macgregor, to our hotel-Stronaclacherand are composed of farmers' sons who go into camp for two or three weeks

Where gleaming with the setting sun, One burnish'd sheet of living gold, ar, and Ben Ledi are beheld in the distance while the immediate shore is down High street we entered the anbordered by densely wooded hills. The cient Cathedral of St. Giles, which once spruce, pine and black birch predominate, though there were open spaces covered with heather, some of which old Jenny Geddes threw her famous of Balguhidder. Another little steamer Parliament House, now used as the carried us through the lake around Ellen's Isle to the eastern shore, where we again took a coach "through the and gown-a sight unfamiliar to Amer-Trossachs' rugged jaws." As we ican eyes. In the paving of the adjaskirted the side of Ben Venue, a fine cent public square is a stone upon which prospect to the east was presented of is cut "I, K. 1572," and supposed to Loch Achray and far beyond.

'Where Vennachar in silver breaks." A glimpse of Loch Ard appeared at the and Edinburgh by train. The latter city is one of the few places in the world that fulfils the extion recalls Quebec, each having a castle on the heights overlooking the disic monument to Sir Walter Scott. His the section known as the Old Town. The Castle we visited first and happened upon a review of the Black Watch in full Highland dress before General Sir Archibald Hunter, K.C.B., recently returned from South Africa. There were in this famous regiment many young recruits, boys of seven-Boers have felt the drain of the present war. The great rocky hill upon which the Castle is erected is the site of a fortress built by Edwin, King of Northumbria, in 617 A. D. In the fif- Park, the seat of Lord Rosebery. The teenth century the city became the beech and the oak were the most comcapital of Scotland and so remained mon trees and the holly and the hawtill the union of the kingdoms in thorne abounded. There were many Queen Anne's reign. In this ancient rabbits and pheasants and we saw sevfortress we examined every nook and eral herds of deer. The grounds are in part from the solid rock. Here d to the floor. St. Margaret's chapel, pared with the siege guns of the present. In the crown-room we saw under glass the Scottish crown, sceptre and sword of state. The great banqueting hall was hung with old weapons and armor but perhaps of chief interest were the apartments of Mary Queen of Scots and the room where she gave birth to James, destined to beome the monarch of Scotland and Engand. We then drove to the palace of Holyrood, over which a romantic charm is thrown by Mary's tragic life. Hither the young queen came from "la belle France" after the death of her first husband, the Dauphin, and the old histhe plain surroundings as compared with the pomp of the French court, the not be comforted." One of Mary's atarrived at Holyrood, a really fine palace and not at all partaking of the rudeness of the country, there came under her window a crew of five or six hundred scoundrels who gave her a serenade with wretched bagpipes, of which mistimed and mistuned, that nothing Darnley, and of the tragedy that followed. We were shown the little private supper room where she and Rizzio and his men surprised them from the secret staircase. I raised up the arras and saw the secret door now sealed up and below I found a few steps of the staircase. Some of the old tapestries and furniture, once belonging to the Queen, still remain, especially in the audience chamber, where John Knox repeatedly rebuked her for attending mass and where afterward her hasty nuptials with Bothwell took place. She had been married to Darnley in the Chapel Royal, which, though now in partial ruins, is a beautiful and graceful pile connected with the palace.

PROF. F. A. HOSMER. ********

Drive around Arthur's Seat, from east as far as the field of Prestonpans and out upon the Firth. The drive continues around Salisbury Craig, below which is the former home of Jennie Deans, the heroine of Scott's "Heart of Midlothian." In the Old Town we saw resounded with the fiery sermons of stool at Dean Hanna's head. In the old Scotland, we saw the advocates in wig mark the grave of John Knox. Much has been done for art in Edinburgh. The public squares abound in south and the cliff over which the beautiful monuments and statues and, Highland gillies at the command of at the foot of the Castle, on Princes Helen Macgregor cast the ill-fated street, a minute's walk from our hotel, hostage. Morris-a scene graphically are the two buildings of the National described by Scott in "Rob Roy." A Art Gallery. In severely classical style, rapid ride of ten miles down the steep they look like Greek temples and are slope brought us to the clachan of in welcome contrast to the rich Gothic Aberfoyle, whence we went to Stirling buildings and the modern architecture around them. The one contains plaster casts of the famous statues of antiquity. We visited the other chiefly to see the famous painting. Giovanni Tie polo's "Finding of Moses by Pharaoh's Daughter." It was a disappointment. tant water. Our hotel was on Princes While a beautiful piece, it did not comstreet, nearly opposite the famous Goth- pare favorably with the same subject by the same painter, now in the Oahu College collection. An artist was copymiliar with Arthur's Seat, the castle and ing a girl's face by Greuze and by using oil painting. Upon falling into conversation with him. I found him to be miliar. He was well informed in regard to Tiepolo's work and was much interested in the painting at Honolulu. He regarded it as not at all improbable that both were originals, as it was customary to paint different treatments of the same subject. One day we drove through Dalmeny the old donjon beneath the tower, cut ridden a few days before. Returning fragments."

through the city to our hotel, we passed by "No. 39, North Castle street," which was Sir Walter Scott's city home while he was clerk of the court, and his own description of it is found in Lockhart's life of the great novelist. We also saw the house where Burns dwelt during his visit to Edinburgh. Sir Walter relates that when a boy he once saw Burns at the home of a neighbor. The country poet was ill at ease in the company and was wandering around the room examining the prints on the walls. Under one was a couplet that struck his fancy and on his enquiring the author of the lines, none of the gentlemen of the party was able to answer. Scott whispered to a companion that he knew, and when Burns was told that there was a boy present who could inform him, he fixed his gaze for the first time upon young Scott, who gave not only the name of the author but the rest of the poem. Burns was pleased and putting his hand upon Young Walter's head, said to him, "My boy, some day you will be Scotland's great poet!" Sir Walter always declared that his ambition dated from The night before we left the city a the South African war. Hundreds of university students, dressed in petticoats, canvassed the streets with tin boxes gathering coins. Some nad long canvas funnels supported by bamboo poles, which they thrust up to the crowded balconies or the tops of doushut out from the light of day, state ble-decked tramcars and coins were colprisoners in the olden time were chain- lected from those would otherwise have had no opportunity to adjoining the tower, is a miniature contribute. The crowd of sightseers church, one of the oldest examples of was generous and £650 was obtained. lothic architecture in the country. By Thousands of people thronged the its door stands the old cannon, "Mons streets for three hours and presented Meg," huge for its day but small com- an interesting study. All seemed welldressed and thoroughly good-natured in spite of the jam. As the long procession of bicycles passed by in every conceivable dress, bursts of laughter greeted the participants who were in unusually funny costume. The police were always courteous and the people quite submissive to their directions and the next morning's papers reported not a single accident.

grand bicycle parade was held in connection with a festival to raise money for the families of soldiers killed in

Aside from among the country people, there seems to be not so much a difference from us in pronunciation as in intonation. English on each side of the Atlantic must of course differentiate to some extent but the divergence torian tells us that when she arrived at is minimized by the fact that both nathe home of her ancestors, struck by tions are familiar with each other's current literature. Of course we knew that our elevator is here a "lift." a young widow "for a long time could pitcher is a "jug," cars are "railway carriages," crackers are "biscuit," etc., tendants, speaking of her home-coming but I had never before seen "Ground to wrote: "What was worst of all, when Fen" posted on a vacant lot. On enquiry I was confirmed in the natural guess that it indicated "land to let."

F. A. HOSMER. Edinburgh, June 22, 1901.

A HONOLULI MAN.

ould be worse." Everyone knows of Talks of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

> When an incident like the following occurs here at home it is bound to carry weight with our readers. The public statement of a reputable citizen living in this city leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

> Mr. James C. Stevens, of this city, informs us: "I was troubled with an ache in the small of my back for a long time, and such was the condition of things until I tried some of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, which I obtained at the Hollister Drug Co.'s store. A short treatment gave me the desired relief, and I am satisfied that they are a good remedy for backache > and deserve to be recommended." Mr. Stevens is one of our own citizens. Is not such testimony stronger than that of someone living in Amer-

Does your back or side ache so that It is hard to stand straight? Do you have headaches, nervousness, frequent thirst, hot, dry skin, or shortness of sleep? Are your eyelids distended or breath? Evil forebodings, or unsettled sleep? Are your eyelids distended or feet and ankles swollen and have you lost flesh? Are the secretions from the kidneys thick, dark colored, and do they deposit a sediment? Kidney direase is insidious and if you leave any of these symptoms you should treat them at once. Delay may mean you you can't be cured.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all chemists and store keepers at 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawatian

BLIND FISHES.

"Fishes," said an old fisherman, "are especially liable to injury to the eyes. Among the fishes taken in nets there are always likely to be found some that had suffered some injury to the eye, and the number in some cases would be large. "The reason for this is very simple. The fishes travel in schools, many fishes thus they are likely to jostle and rub against one another. If they are frightened then the danger from this source is greatly increased. "Take for instance a school of menhaden chased by bluefish. In their fright and their eagerness to escape they rusn off wildly crowding and smashing together, and sometimes actually pushing, in their wild rush, up out of water onto together, and closely herded. Moving the beach. "Bluefish rush off in the same wild manner when sharks smash into a school of them, and begin biting and destroying right and left.

"The frightened fishes would in such ases flee like a herd of stampeded cattle on the land. The cattle would, some of them, be trampled down and killed, and some would have legs broken and some would lose their horns, and so on The fishes would suffer injuries in like manner, and the eye, being an exposed and easily injured part, they are particularly liable to injury there.

"Blind fishes, or fishes with impaired sight suffering from injury or perhaps from disease following injury, are caught with the rest simply because they stay with them. They do not, because of their blindness, get lost. All fishes are peculiarly sensitive to the motion of the water near them. They keep within the circle corner open to the public. Here was fairly well kept but Dalmeny House is of the movement made by the school. the famous Argyle's tower, the scene a plain affair. We continued the drive They don't stray away, they stay with of Ward's celebrated painting-"The to the southern end of the great Firth the crowd, and if the crowd gets any Last Sleep of Argyle." I descended into of Forth bridge, over which we had thing to eat they get at least some of the

ATTENTION. LAWYERS

I have on hand a lot of TEXT BOOKS which are for sale at private sale. Prices will be furnished upon applica-

WILL E. FISHER

Vacation Days

Are suggestive of thorough relaxation from cares with light reading to pass the leisure hours away. These days are upon us, and a large assortment of cloth and paper covered novels, as also the latest in magazines, illustrated and other papers, at corner of Hotel, will outfit all applicants for supplies of literature for their summer outing.

Following are some of the new books just received:

TARRY THOU TILL I COME by CROLY. LIKE ANOTHER HELM by

HORTON. EVERY INCH A KING by SAWYER. RALPH MARLOWE by NAY-MISTRESS NELL by HAZEL-

TON. THE WAYS OF THE SERVICE by PALMER. PUPPET CROWN by M'GRATH.

Besides something new which will interest the trade, viz: THE PEN-CARBON LETTER AND INVOICE COPYING BOOKS. Copies While Writing.

Thos. G. Thrum

Stationer, Bookseller and News Agent.

P. O. Box 206. 1063 Fort. St., Honolulu.

LEASE

FOR A TERM OF YEARS, A piece of land fronting on South street, and running through to Chamberlain street, the frontage on each of said streets being 140 feet, and having depth of 140 feet. This property is suitable for the erection of warehouses and stores. For terms, apply to the KAPIOLANI ESTATE, LTD

Horses and Mules FOR SALE

To arrive per Aloha and S. N. Castle, about July 8th,

MATCH TEAMS, FINE DRIVERS. FAST PACERS, DRAY TEAMS, ETC. CHARLES H. BELLINA

LIN SING. Merchant Tailor.

Removed from Hotel near Nuuanu to Cor. Beretania and Emma Sts KHAKI AND WHITE DUCK SUITS A SPECIALTY. P. O. Box 931. Cleaning and Repairing.

HAWAIIAN SODA WORKS' GINGER ALE, ROOT BEER, LEMON AND

CREAM SODA. Emma and Vineyard streets; 'Phone Blue 1871.

NEW MAP OF OAHU SY JAB. T. TAYLOR, M. Am. Soc. C. B. 88x51 inches.

Copies can be obtained from Mr. Tayor, 306 Judd building, or Hawaiian News 'empany

The Instruments Used in..... THE SILENT BARBER SHOP Are Thoroughly Dizinfected Before Using.

JOSEPH FERNANDEZ, Prop., arlington Hotel WOMAN'S EXCHANGE

$14 FORT ST. HAS FOR SALE THE BEST GENeral assortment of Hawaiian and Pacific Island Curios in the city. Homemade Poi on Tuesdays and Fridays

'a waiian Hotel Barber Shop

Shaving, Haircutting, Shampooing, Sea Foam, Trimming Whiskers, Razors Honed and Set, 25 cents each.

C. SCHOELLKOPF.